

After choosing the cat as the final character I start the colour scheme. I chose the third colours because in the story this is a ghost cat. This cat froze to death on the streets in the freezing winter then became ghost. After becoming a ghost, her legs left frostbite scars and her cape looks like snow she was covered with before she died. To create the impression that it is a ghost cat, the character floats in the air and has transparent legs.

Sled Bear
A horn that gives a strong winter impression
Snow and bear
